I worked with North Pacific Erectors (NPE) on the construction of a $5.9 million project which included a new city maintenance shop, administration building, and fuel system. The project was completed timely and efficiently despite the numerous unforeseen design issues and changes that arose during construction.

NPE has established itself as a company that can provide a superior product while still remaining competitive due to their ability to plan ahead and perform the work efficiently. The foresight, communication, and willingness to cooperate that NPE demonstrated made all the difference on this complex construction project. I was impressed with both the quality of the materials and the quality of the workmanship on the project.

NPE's on-site foreman, project managers, and employees were very knowledgeable, professional, and accommodating throughout the project. NPE maintained a good line of communication throughout and their employees were friendly and took pride in their workmanship. NPE maintained a very clean and organized work area and was also the most safety oriented contractor I can remember working with.

Working with NPE on this project was a pleasure and I would recommend them to anyone who is looking for a contractor to provide an on-time, high quality product and a professional working relationship.
